“One of the advisers at the Sydney program had just spent the weekend at an Anthony Robbins event and commented to me that he got more value out of your 45 minute presentation, which is a great reflection on the power of your presentation!”

David will inspire your delegates with a step-by-step blueprint on how to speed up trust and success in all areas of their life, through intentional and positive influencing and communication skills, validated by latest in positive psychology research.

People Get Your Truth – Over time, your intentions, promises, actions and results will either promote you or expose you. Your delegates will be inspired to explore the triangle of three trusts - self-trust (Confidence), trust in others (Courage) and others trusting in you (Competence). Equipped with these models and a step-by-step blueprint on HOW to achieve more deeper and trusting relationships, almost every aspect of their success will be positively impacted.

David is a fantastic speaker. He encouraged delegates to challenge their way of thinking, review their principles and strategies plus take stock of their truth. As a keynote speaker, David is engaging, motivational and entertaining. The feedback was more than positive and we were impressed with how his presentation was tailored to our personal needs.
